

Seminar of Historical Epistemology – 2017
Università degli Studi di Milano
Dipartimento di Filosofia

Voir venir les choses est le meilleur moyen de les expliquer
P.J.F. Turpin

Program

March 15th, h. 14.30: Cristina Chimisso (Open University), Hélène Metzger: filosofia e storia della scienza.

March 29th, h. 13.30: Steve Fuller (University of Warwick), Could a reflexive historical epistemology revolutionize the academy?

April 12th, h. 12.30: Vincenzo de Risi (Universität Leipzig), Space and figure: foundations of geometry and diagrammatic inferences in early-modern mathematics.

April 21st, h. 14.30: Marco Bresadola (Università degli Studi di Ferrara), The Controversial Polyp: The History of an Early Modern Disease Concept.

May 10th, h. 10.30: Thomas Sturm (ICREA Research-Professor, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona), Learning from debates over naturalized epistemology: Seven challenges for historical epistemologists.

May 31st, h. 14.30: Matteo Vagelli (Université Paris 1 - Panthéon-Sorbonne), “The Manipulative Hand and the Attentive Eye”: The historical epistemology of laboratory science from Bachelard’s applied rationalism to Hacking’s experimental realism.

June 8th, h. 14.00: Martin Kusch (Universität Wien), From Völkerpsychologie to the Sociology of Knowledge.

November 30th, h. 16.30: Paul A. Roth (University of California Santa Cruz), The structure of structure: Revealing the missing historiography of Kuhn’s Structure and what it teaches us.

Seminar venue: Aula Enzo Paci, Dipartimento di Filosofia, Via Festa del Perdono 7, 20122 Milano

Please contact: Luca Guzzardi, Università degli Studi di Milano, Dipartimento di Filosofia, via Festa del Perdono 7, 20122 Milano | luca.guzzardi@unimi.it